The old time Tiger punch, heretofore conspicuous by its absence, finally came out of summer quarters and lodged itself permanently in the Tiger camp and through it Schulte's terrors staged one of the greatest "come-backs." Bennie Owen's men have ever seen when the two teams faced each other last Saturday. In fact the entire game was just a series of "come-backs," all of them being produced by the Missourians except one.

The entire game can be called one of the Tigers' come-backs. They showed the "pep" and fight that made Owen characterize them as "the best team he had ever seen wearing the Old Gold and Black" after the fracas was over. With the exception of the few minutes when Oklahoma shoved over her two touchdowns the Tigers never let up.

Another come-back came in the fourth quarter when the Missourians, trailing a 14-13 score, sailed in and ran through, around, over and by the Sooners, turning defeat into a victory.

The brilliant way in which Schulte's men broke up the Sooner passes must also be classed among the come-backs. The Sooners, known as one of the best forward passing teams in the Valley, were up against a team that was heralded as one of the weakest against the aerial game. Owen's men worked two out of fourteen passes. Nuff said.

Bill Muir is also entitled to mention in the come-back column. The husky Tiger tackle, after many attempts this season, finally shot a field goal through the cross bars for a goal from placement.

Of course the Sooners also staged a little come-back. But why bring up unpleasant recollections? The Tigers didn't want to take all the joy out of life for the Oklahomans.

The greatest feature of the game was not a come-back, but a new arrival. It was Mr. Backfield Punch who has been anxiously awaited by the "Thundering Thousand" for some time. And it might be said that said punch is known around the campus as Harry Viner, a young Bengal who got his first real chance in the second half Saturday. Viner went in and furnished just what the team needed. Some real fight and punch. He put up a good game all the way and never failed to make the needed yardage. If he keeps on playing as he did Saturday, an undefeated team for Missouri this season will be more than a dream.

Tigers Make Twenty First Downs; Sooners 2.

How the Tigers really played can be told in figures better than any other way. The following, taken from the Daily Oklahoman, gives a good idea of the Superiority of the M. U. boys over the Sooners:

"However, had Oklahoma won, Missouri would not have received what she had earned for tabulations show that except in punting and passing, the Tigers eclipsed their rivals in every way. Missouri made twenty first downs to three for Oklahoma. She rushed the ball by straight football 108 times for a total gain of 386 yards while Oklahoma in thirteen rushes made only 85 yards. Two of Oklahoma's thirteen attempts at forward passes were successful, netting 47 yards. Missouri hurled the ball fourteen times, four times making connections and gaining 32 yards thereby, Oklahoma was penalized 65 yards to 35 for Missouri.

In punting, Briscoe was far superior to Missouri. Briscoe punted seven times for a total of 307 yards an average of 44. Muir punted twice, once for 30 and once for 40 his total being 75 and his average 37 1-2.

There will be the most terrific gridiron battle of the Tiger football season when the Texas Longhorns invade Missouri territory next Saturday for the first game since 1907, say the Missouri coaches. The only basis of comparison of the strength of the two teams is the games with the Oklahoma Sooners. Texas won from the oil-field team by a score of 21 to 7 while the Tigers beat the same team with the two Hott boys and the speedy Oklahoma ends, Fields out of the running. Texas earned one touchdown in their game while Missouri earned three. Oklahoma earned two touchdowns in both games. Other scores were made on fumbles and the final Tiger count by a place kick.

That Missouri outplayed the Sooner eleven is shown by the fact that the Tiger team made twenty first downs to the three of the opposing team. According to the satisfying postmortem, the Tigers should have beaten the Sooners by four touchdowns. But the Tigers were held twice when a six or seven point score was within reaching distance of the Tiger's jaws. All of which would indicate that the Longhorns and the Tigers are evenly matched.

The first contest between Texas and Missouri came in 1894 when the Tigers, then in their infancy, romped away with the long end of a 28 to 0 score. In 1900 the Longhorns came back with a 18 to 12 defeat added to the Tiger scores. In 1901 the Longhorns again successfully twisted the Tiger's tail with a 10 to 0 defeat. The last and most sensational tangle between the Southerners and Missouri came in 1907 when the Tigers came out with a 5 to 4 victory. Old men who have seen the game still tell it as one of their choice sport stories. It was the day of "Tex" Ramsdell, the Texas athlete who later won fame for himself at the University of Pennsylvania. Tiger faces were long whenever the ball was carried by Ramsdell for his gains around the end were never less than twenty-five yards and many times up to fifty. This year will bring the Tigers and Longhorns together with two scalps on their belts and next Saturday's game will be the deciding battle between the two.

The Tigers came through the Sooner battle without a scratch. Pittam, a star backfield performer, hit a bad place in his knee and was out for a part of the game but will be in trim for the Longhorn struggle. "Big Bill" Muir, Tiger tackle, found himself as a place kicker in the Oklahoma game and his boot may make a difference in the Saturday score. Viner, a new face in the Tiger backfield, came through as a surprise to Tiger followers. "Bunny" Morris, who has played only a few minutes in two of the games this season, may start in the backfield when the Longhorns line up on Rollins Field. Coach Schulte is giving him especial attention.

Coach Schulte is turning his attention from developing his line to the development of the backfield and the Longhorns may see a different set of tactics from those displayed to the Texas coach. "Liz" Clay at Norman. And it might be said that Texas has an advantage in having two men "Liz" and Van Gent who know the training of the Tigers. Texas is playing a modified brand of Missouri football.

"The team is coming along as a real football eleven should," is Coach Schulte's comment upon his men. "It may be the one that I have been looking for for four years. It has not found the stride yet that it is capable of, I am positive of that."

The game will be played under Missouri Valley conference rules which eliminates all four year men. Rumors have reached the Tiger camp that Dittmar, all-Southern center, and Carelton, are of this class but it is not known whether they will appear in the line-up Saturday or not. Fans are talking of the work of Trabean and Harte in the Longhorn backfield, of O'Connell and of the shift Lange. Reports have come back from the Sooner settlement, that the Texan is capable of doing more tricks in the air than any man in the South and possesses a wonderfully educated toe. There is a feeling of confidence in the Tigers among Missouri people but also a realization that Saturday's struggle will be the hardest of the year.

Viner Made the Winning Touchdown.

Several St. Louis and Kansas City papers and the Missourian yesterday carried two mistakes in the reports of the game. One was that Pittam fumbled the ball on which the Sooners got a touchdown. The other error was that McMillan made the final Tiger touchdown. McMillan, not Pittam, made the fumble, and Harry Viner scored the touchdown.

Texas Game Tickets Are Now on Sale.

Tickets for the Texas game are now on sale at the Missouri Store, Co-op, Penn's Pharmacy, Drug Shop and Director Brewer's office at Rothwell Gymnasium. To accommodate the alumni and others Director Brewer has reserved sections I, J, K, L, M, and N which will be exchanged without any extra charge. Sections F, G and H will be reserved for rooters only. Many organizations in school have reserved boxes and parts of sections for their members and visiting alumni.

Freshmen Beat Sophomores, 7 to 6.

The freshmen defeated the sophomores 7 to 6 Saturday afternoon at Rollins Field in the opening game of the inter-class series. played good football most of the game, and were within ten yards of the goal line on four occasions, but were successful in carrying the ball over only once, and the goal was missed.

In the first quarter the sophomores carried the ball to within 20 yards of the goal when Lee intercepted a forward pass and ran for a touchdown. This was the only time that the freshmen seriously threatened to score.

This victory eliminates the sophomores from the tournament, while the freshmen will play the seniors on Rollins Field, Saturday, November 11, for the championship of the University. The senior team won the championship last year, but several members of their team are not here this year.

SOCIETY NOTES

Friday evening, November 10, has been set as the date for the annual social and reception of new members by the Christian Associations of the University. Both the Young Women's and the Young Men's Christian Associations have had unusually successful membership campaigns this fall, and the social will serve to bring these new members into the organizations, as well as to renew the interest of the old members. Miss Pauline Flowerree for the Women's Association and Mr. Nathan Scarrett for the Men's Association are making extensive preparations to make the evening a pleasant one. Invitations will be issued in a few days.

The Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity gave a Hallowe'en Dance at the chapter house in honor of their pledges Saturday night. The house was decorated with autumn leaves and Hallowe'en "trimmings." Above the fireplace the badge of the fraternity was displayed with electrical effect. Thirty couples were present. Prof. and Mrs. C. W. Leaphart were the chaperons.

The Alpha Phi sorority will give an informal house dance Saturday night. Mrs. J. C. King is a new patroness of the sorority.

A Hallowe'en dinner and party was given at Stephens College Saturday evening under the direction of the Y. W. C. A. The dining room was lighted with candles and the tables were decorated with jack o' lanterns, miniature shocks of fodder, baskets of fruit, and other Hallowe'en decorations. All of the students were dressed as ghosts. After dinner the following stunts were given by the various college organizations: The John Smith-Pocahontas scene from American history by the Oklahoma Club; The haunted graveyard, by the Y. M. C. A.; The human calliope, by the student government organization; scene in a theatrical booking office, by the Junior Class; a faculty meeting, by the Senior Class; the children's chorus, by the academy class; and the life of a college girl, by the Faculty. After the stunts a party was given in the gymnasium, which was decorated for the occasion. Apples, cider, and popcorn balls were served.

Mrs. George Main of Olympia, Wash., was the guest of honor at a tea given by Mrs. J. D. Lawson at her home, 1200 Hudson avenue, from 4 to 6 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Twenty-five were present.

King's Daughters Meet in Hannibal. Mrs. C. H. Eckles, Mrs. Marshall Gordon, and Misses Pearl Mitchell and Anna Howerton went to Hannibal today to attend the state convention of the King's Daughters. They are delegates from the Martha Elwang Circle.
